ANNEX E
TRAVEL PACKAGES

E.1 Lakbay Aral / Benchmarking / Team Building

"Lakbay-aral" (study-tour) and/or benchmarking is an activity that requires funds. It gives government workers the opportunity to travel and observe the best practices of other government services in other places of the country. For example, MSU-IIT constituents may want to observe the best practices of other SUCs in another region; hence they will travel to that particular region. Since this is an official activity, it follows that the personnel will be given travel allowances. If institutionalized, then, funds for this purpose should be included in the agency's budget.

Participating in lakbay aral and benchmarking activities of SUCs and other government agencies which have introduced innovative and practical solutions to similar problems MSU-IIT is currently encountering, useful for IIT to apply. The visit affords IIT constituents to witness first-hand how their fellow employees have actually responded to the challenges they have encountered, hindering factors they have to prevail, results of their efforts, and lessons learned from the experience. The interaction with other public officials will enable them to find answers to the questions they have in mind, analyze their problems better and define the corresponding solution. What is just important in this step is look for the appropriate sites to visit. Thus gathering information about the latter is the first step prior to actually embarking on a lakbay aral.

E.2 Strategic Planning

The process by which leaders of an organization determine what it intends to be in the future and how it will get there. To put it another way, they develop a vision for the organization's future and determine the necessary priorities, procedures, and operations (strategies) to achieve that vision. Included are measurable goals which are realistic and attainable, but also challenging; emphasis is on long-term goals and strategies, rather than short term (such as annual) objectives. Strategic planning assumes that certain aspects of the future can be created or influenced by the organization. Strategic planning is ongoing; it is "the process of self-examination, the confrontation of difficult choices, and the establishment of priorities" (Pfeiffer et al., Understanding Applied Strategic Planning: A Manager's Guide).

The participants are to contribute inputs to the following:

1. Revisiting of the previous years' Strategic Planning Outputs
2. Discuss and finalize outputs
3. Align and refine the next year's planning outputs in harmonization to the PIs of the Institute as identified in the different MOOs and in the OPCRs
